Youthful Depravity.

A gentleman informs us of a shocking murder which was committed the other day in Christian county, Kentucky. A son of Col. RATCLIFFE, about seven years old, was playing with two black children of the same age, belonging to the family. He ordered one of them to give the other a piece of bread, threatening to shoot him if he disobeyed. The negro refused, when he instantly shot him dead, and wounded the other child. ... So much for allowing mere children to carry about knives and pistols, and familiarizing them with instruments of violence. The father was an officer in a rebel regiment.

The Hunchback.

We have received from Dick & Firz-GERALD, publishers, No. 18 Ann Street, New York, a copy of Vioron Hugo's great novel, The Hunchbuck, considered the master-piece of this brilliant and powerful French novelest. It would be idle to recommend this stirring romance to the lovers of romance, for everybody reads Victor Hugo's works, and all we need say is that by sending 50 cents to the publishers you can get one of the best romances of the great romancer of

We are informed that the Cumberland Alley Stone-throwers are such adepts in their profession as to have succeeded, on day before yesterday, in "landing" three of their missiles on the top of a lady's bonnet as the wearer thereof was passing between Summer and High Streets. It seems that a number of juveniles meet daily near the Summer Street corner of the above alley, where, from dawn till dark, they amuse themselves in pelting the passers by. It is needless to say that we have been requested to invite the the City Marshal to be present at the next meeting of the Stone-throwers.

Where, where is the boasted prosperity and grandeur of the phantom Southern Confederacy which was to win the reverence of the world? All vanished into empty air, and instead of 'that vision of a disordered brain, we see dissevered

Since the suppression of the Louisville Express, we hear the Cincinnati Enquirer cried more frequently in our streets than before. It is quite popular with the rebels. A bath in the Ohio would improve the Enquirer and its rebel editors.

A special telegraphic dispatch states that a military department will be formed out of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. The Louisville Journal urges the appointment of General BOYLE to the command of the department.

We notice in one of our exchanges the death of a guerrilla officer who was killed lately in a skirmish. We knew him a few years ago as a drunken school teacher from Connecticut. But he was plenty good for a rebel leader.

There is precious little difference between an armed rebel, and one who advises not to offend rebels. One who gives such advice would be a rebel himself, if pluck and interest would let him.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.-Itev. Mr. WIL-LIAMS, Chaplain of the Nashville Union Guards, will preach in the Hall of the Court House on Sunday, August 10th, at half-past ten o'clock. Citizens and soldiers are invited to attend.

Every example of patriotism and courage given in history, from the Song of Troy to the annals of the American Revolution, will mock us with intense derision, if we do not conquer the rebels, and vindicate the cause of freedom.

THEATRE.- Novelty upon novelty succeeds each other in such rapid succession at the Theatre that its almost impossible to keep pace with it. The management have a keen appreciation of the patronage bestowed upon thom and will use their utmost endeavors to merit a continuance of the same Madelaine. "The Soldier's Daughter" will be offered tonight as the feature-this drama is one of the most effective and popular plays on the boards and we are certain full justice will be done the author by the talented Co. For the lovers of the comical the Drama of "Robert Macairle" will be a sufficient inducement for them to turn out en masse. In the last named piece Miss Constantine and Hanny EVERETT will give a Por de Deux.

The Resignation of Capt. Harrison Response of Gen Pope. Gen. Pope has sent the following reply to Captain Harrison's letter denying that he had descried :

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF VIRGINIA, WARRENTON, VA., July 30, 1862. CAPT. SAMUEL L. HARRISON, 95th Regt. N. Y. Vols.: Your communication of July 27 is received. It is not necessary to inform you that a commissioned officer, by absenting himself without leave, is guilty of desertion as well as a non-commis sioned officer or private, and is subject to the same process of recovery, and to the same punishment for the efficase.— Nor do you need to be told that neither your Colonel nor any other officer except such as are designated by law and regulation, has any right to accept your resignation, nor, under existing orders of the War Department, to give you any leave based on such tendered resignation. You state that you received some injury on the railroad, and that the medical officers of your regiment advised you to resign. This may be true, but until your resignation be accepted by proper authority you are not discharged from your obligations as an officer of the army. Neither your resignation, the certificates of the medical officers—if there were any-nor any other papers bearing on the subject, have ever reached

It is needless to tell you, as you must of necessity know it, that under these circumstances you are a deserter from the service of the United States. In time of active operations in front of the enemy, it is not possible to try an officer for such offences, especially is it not so when he is beyond the reach of the military authorities of this army, and his company about to march against the enemy without a captain; it is, therefore, my deliberate intention to adopt the course which seems most effective to prevent such desertions. Every officer of this army absent without authority will be advertised in the public papers, and disgraced before his people if it be possible to do so.

No resignation of any officer whatever will be accepted, except upon medical certificates of the most conclusive character, or proof of worthlessness. It is therefore to be distinctly understood that any officer of this army whose resignation has been accepted without medical certificate, has proved himself worthless and incompetent. Neither with cred-it to himself, nor with any sort of fair dealing toward the private soldier, can any volunteer officer tender his resigna-The soldier has agreed to go into the service of the United States, with the understanding that certain persons who persuaded him to enlist shall continue to ommand him. If he had thought otherwise there is no doubt that in many cases he would have declined to volunteer. When he has been sworn in, he is bound for the whole term of service, and there should be no one exempt, nor, so far as I can control this army, shall he be exempt from the same restriction, in that respect, which has been imposed on the private

A large part of the dissatisfaction justly felt by the private soldiers of the volunteer regiments has arisen from this very practice. As soon as a commissioned officer grows tired of the fatigue and pany and detachment. hardship of service, he tenders his resignation, and in very many cases has found means to have it accepted. A private soldier has no such means of freeing himself from an obligation which he imposed on himself with the full understanding that the officer who persuaded him to volunteer was equally bound with himself and would remain with him-The practice of abandoning the private soldiers who have volunteered at their instance, reflects little credit upon officers, and will only be tolerated in this army when I can no longer control it.

Respectfully, your obedient servant. JOHN POPE, Major-General Commanding.

HEADQUARTERS ABMY OF THE ORIO, A In Camp, Huntsville, Ala., Aug. 1, 1862. GENERAL ORDERS, No. 37.

Tho Major General commanding has to announce other instances of disgraceful neglect, and contrast them with another of gallautry.

The guard at Courtland Bridge, consisting of companies A and H, 10th Kentucky, under the command of Captain Davidson, and a part of Capt. Eggleston's company, 1st Ohio Cavalry, was com pletely surprised and captured, with but trifling loss, on the morning of the 25th ult. by a force of irregular cavalry.

On the same day the companies of Captains Boyle and Goben, 10th Indiana which were ordered to protect two bridges on the same road, respectively 6 and 12 miles east of Courtland, deemed it wiser to bring in an empty train which came up, than to defend their posts, threatened with an attack from the same irregular cavalry, and so put themselves on the train and arrived safely at Decatur, a few miles distant, without the loss or injury

On the same day and on the same road, 8 miles from Decatur, a guard consisting of 24 men of company E, 31st Ohio, under command of Lieut, Harman, were suddenly attacked by a greatly superior force of the same Cavalry. They defended themselves gallantly, and repulsed the enemy, killing several of the number. Lieut. Harman and 11 of his men were wounded, himself in two places, and two of his men were killed.

The General submits these examples to the reflecation of the troops. He reminds them that neglect and bad conduct on the part of guards bring dishonor upon them, and may even jeopardise the safety of an army. If these appeals to their personal and professional pride should fail of their object, he warns them that the extreme penalty of the law must intervene to punish the guilty, and save the Arm's from the jeopardy in which they place it.

The duty of guarding the communications of the Aarmy is among the most important with which an officer and his troops can be intrusted. Vigilance, determinatian and the preparation of suitable defences, in the way of entrenchments or stoccades, will prevent such attacks, or enable a small force to repel a greatly superior one. Had the orders for Bridge guards to fortify their posts been promptly executed and proper vigilance been observed, the attacks referred to, if made at all, would have had very differ-

Rates of Postage between the United States and Mexico.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT, July 4, 1862. 5

By the recent postal convention with Mexico, proclaimed by the President on the 20th June, 1862, the following rates of postage are established, of which postmasters will take notice:

1st. The single letter rate (inland three cents and sea seven cents) is ten cents per half ounce, and for each fraction over an additional rate, and prepayment is required. This applies to all letters sent to Mexico from the United States by sea. 2d. On all letters received from Mexico by sea the United States domestic rate of postage is to be charged, rating them at the first United States post office at which they are mailed to their destination, either three or ten cents per single

3d. On all letters sent to or received from Mexico, when not conveyed by sea, the United States domestic postage only, of three or ten cents the single rate, is to be charged. This must be prepaid at the mailing office, on letters sent, and collected at the office of delivery, on letters received. 4th. The sea vate on printed matter sent to Mexico is one cent for each newspaper and one cent per ounce (or fraction of an ounce) on all magazines, periodical publications, and other printed matter; and this is to be added, when sent by sea, to our usual inland rate of postage; and this combined rate must be prepaid at the mailing office in the United States. When sent by land the United States in land rate of postage only is to be charged and prepaid at the mailing office.

5th. On all such printed matter receive from Mexico, only our usual inland postage is to be collected, and this must be paid in all cases on delivery at the office 6th. These regulations must be strictly observed, as no accounts are kept with the Mexican postal department.

The Situation in Kentecky. Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazotta.

WASHINGTON, August 5 .-- Mr. Casey, the Kentucky Congressmen who voted for confiscation, is here to-day, renewing the representations to the Administration concering the state of affairs in Kentvcky. He says that the Union men are perfectly assured of the rebel intention to make another foray, on a more extensive scale, into the State if possible.-Twelve hundred rebel cavalry are now in this county. They declare now just as they did this time last year, that they must have the products of the country between the Green and Comberland rivers for the support of their army, and it is believed they are maturing plans to carry out their threat, relying on the same supineness of the National forces that was exhibited last year. Mr. Casey and other Kentuckians are asking that as fast as troops are raised in volunteer regiments, and under the new draft, they shall be pushed down into Kentucky, drilled there, and subsisted off the property of Kentucky rebels. They argue that this will be sufficient to avert all danger in Kentucky and at the same time make the rebellion in Kentucky unprofitable. They ask, also, that all ablebodied negroes belonging to rebels should be seized at once and used for camp service. as teamsters, etc., but not armed.
